Administrative/Biographical History:

The San Angelo Genealogical and Historical Society, Inc., was organized in 1972. The purpose of the organization has been to conduct educational activities, to promote interest in genealogical and historical research, to collect and preserved documents and records pertaining to the history of West Texas, and to help establish a library in the area for genealogical and historical research.

In August 1973 the society began publication of a quarterly, Stalkin' Kin, fulfilling the desire to permanently record materials that might otherwise be lost forever.

Scope and Content:

Collection consists of papers, photographs, and scrapbooks containing SAG&HS and San Angelo genealogical and historical information.
